Please note: Actual donor expenses may differ from those listed here; this is an estimate only. The specific procedures performed in an individual IVF cycle vary considerably as each cycle is unique. The global fee is our best estimate of what a typical cycle costs, and is non-negotiable.

A list of pre-IVF tests needed for the recipient and her partner is provided separately. The medications used by the recipient in a typical donor egg cycle include birth control pills, Lupron, Doxycycline, Estradiol Valerate, and Progesterone in oil. A prescription for these medications will be faxed to a specialty pharmacy. The pharmacy will call you before shipping to arrange for payment directly from you.
